NAMES.

A.

G.

L. Lutenŏla.

I.

G.

F.

S.

D.

WOULD or DYERS WEED.

PLACE.

On Walls, Banks and often Sown in Fields for the Dyers use.

DESCRIPTION.

This Plant Grows about Three foot high, the Stalk is Chaneld. Cover'd. with Leaves 1, which are fuller at the Edg Rib in the Middle, which swells out on each sides of the L pleasant green neither light nor dark. as the Plant grows up i Leaves 2, which are without footstalks or tails. It produces n long Spikes, on the tops of the Stalks, in Cups of several smal Leaves. The Flowers have Chives, with Apices, surroundin sels 5. 6. which are Triangular open 7-7 green the seeds a Summits 3 in a forward View and 4 on a side View Growing over the top of every flower, divided into five parts pale Yellowish Green. 3, 4. 5. 6. 7. 7. are Magnified.

This Plant is not in the Dispensary of the College, but ler the Apothecary in His Botanicum officinale taken in use, and to Shew what is frequently Sold for Glastum or VIRTUES.

'Tis accounted a good Wound Herb though seldom used

T. Sheldrake delin.